Schmidt Reports Black Market Ring Smashed in Japan

Drugs and Sugar Are Involved; 53 Chinese Seamen Held by Americans

JOHN B. SCHMIDT

Kobe, Japan, Feb. 27 (AP)—Army criminal investigation division agents have smashed a Japanese black market ring dealing in modern drugs and arrested 53 Chinese seamen for alleged participation in a projected illicit sugar venture, Lt. Col. John B. Schmidt announced today.

Schmidt, of Kingston, N. Y., base provost marshal here, credited C. D. Agent Jessie D. Rice of Portland, Ark., with a major role in breaking up the drug ring. Schmidt said it had planned to sell in Japan 800 bottles of penicillin and 175 bottles of sodium sulfadiazine solution, as well as saccharin and sulfadiazine.

The penicillin alone would have netted about 100,000,000 yen ($6,000,000) on the black market, Schmidt said. The drugs together with 30 tons of sugar were found aboard a British ship.

Married Miss Agnes Maroon
Col. Schmidt, a native of Little Falls, N. Y., is the husband of the former Agnes M. Maroon, daughter of J. D. Maroon, 19 Meadow street.

He entered the army as a private.

Drake Is Held On Check Charge

Gave One for $81 to Local Firm; Held by Court for Grand Jury

Allan Drake, 23, of 3 North Front street, charged with second degree forgery, wanted examination and was ordered held for the grand jury, when arraigned before City Judge Matthew Cahill in city court today. Judge Cahill set no bail.

Drake was arrested on Washington avenue by Detective Clarence Brophy Wednesday afternoon on charges of passing a bad check.

According to the police, Drake made out a check for $81 on February 17 drawn upon the First National Bank of Bloominghams and payable to himself. He used the signature of Jason J. Shattles and endorsed the check and presented it to Niek Lemster, a clerk at the Canfield Supply Company in payment for a kitchen sink which cost $25. Drake, according to the police, received $56 in change from Mr. Lemster.

Mr. Lemster notified the police when the check bounced and the investigation began. According to police records, Drake had previously been picked up on a bad check charge which was later withdrawn, and had been arrested for petit larceny.

Max Serrotta, of Saratoga Springs, arrested for parking in a fire zone, forfeited $5 bail.

George A. Leonard, of 108 North Front street, arrested for public intoxication on North Front street about midnight last night, was given a one-day suspended sentence.

Catholics Oppose Education Discrimination Measure

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—Roman Catholic Church opposition threatened today to prevent passage of the Austin-Mahoney bill outlawing racial and religious discrimination in non-sectarian educational institutions.

The New York State Catholic Welfare Committee, which represents the church's bishops on legislative matters, denounced the bill as "un-American."

The vigorous Catholic opposition, expressed in telegrams to legislative leaders and a statement to other members of the senate and assembly, was made known late yesterday, a few hours before a New York city group announced 1,000 students would march on the capitol Saturday to support the bill.

Other developments:

1. Senate and assembly leaders settled a dispute that threatened defeat of proposals to increase salaries of legislators and extend the

Wicks' Bill Favors Troopers' Retirement

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—State Troopers would be permitted to retire on an optional, voluntary basis after 20 years' continuous service under a bill introduced in the legislature by Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Kingston Republican.

The present law permits retirement at the end of 25 years.

Wicks said the bill was designed to compensate troopers for their "heavy schedule" of work and to make the service "more attractive" for young men.

The proposal would allow troopers to add to their salaries, for pension purposes, the cash amount received in lieu of food.

Troopers at sub-stations receive cash in lieu of meals at barracks.

Palestine Upset First for Douglas To Fix in Britain

Must Straighten Out Bevin on Stand He Takes Regarding Holy Land

By HAL COOPER

Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—The problem of smoothing Anglo-American relations troubled by differences over Palestine emerged today as the first hurdle for plain-talking Lewis W. Douglas when he takes over the embassy in London.

The transatlantic controversy came to a head in a White House statement describing as "unfortunate and misleading" any British implication that President Truman was playing politics last October 4 when he urged the immediate admission of 100,000 Jews to the Holy Land.

The statement, handed out last night only a few hours after the President chose the one-time New Deal budget director as his new ambassador, was issued as a reply to Foreign Secretary Bevin's assertion to Parliament Tuesday.

Says Truman Interfered
Bevin declared Mr. Truman's October remarks, during the Congressional election campaign, "spoiled" negotiations which might have led to a settlement of the Arab-Jewish conflict.

"I really must point out," the British cabinet officer told Commons, "that in international affairs I cannot settle things if my problem is made the subject of local elections."

The White House statement made public by Press Secretary Charles G. Ross related that the impression that has arisen from yesterday's debate in the British Parliament that America's interest in Palestine and the settlement of Jews there is motivated by partisan and local politics is most unfortunate and misleading.

Took Stand Earlier
It went on to declare that Mr. Truman's October stand simply reiterated the position he had communicated to Prime Minister Attlee as long ago as August, 1945, and made public in November, 1945.

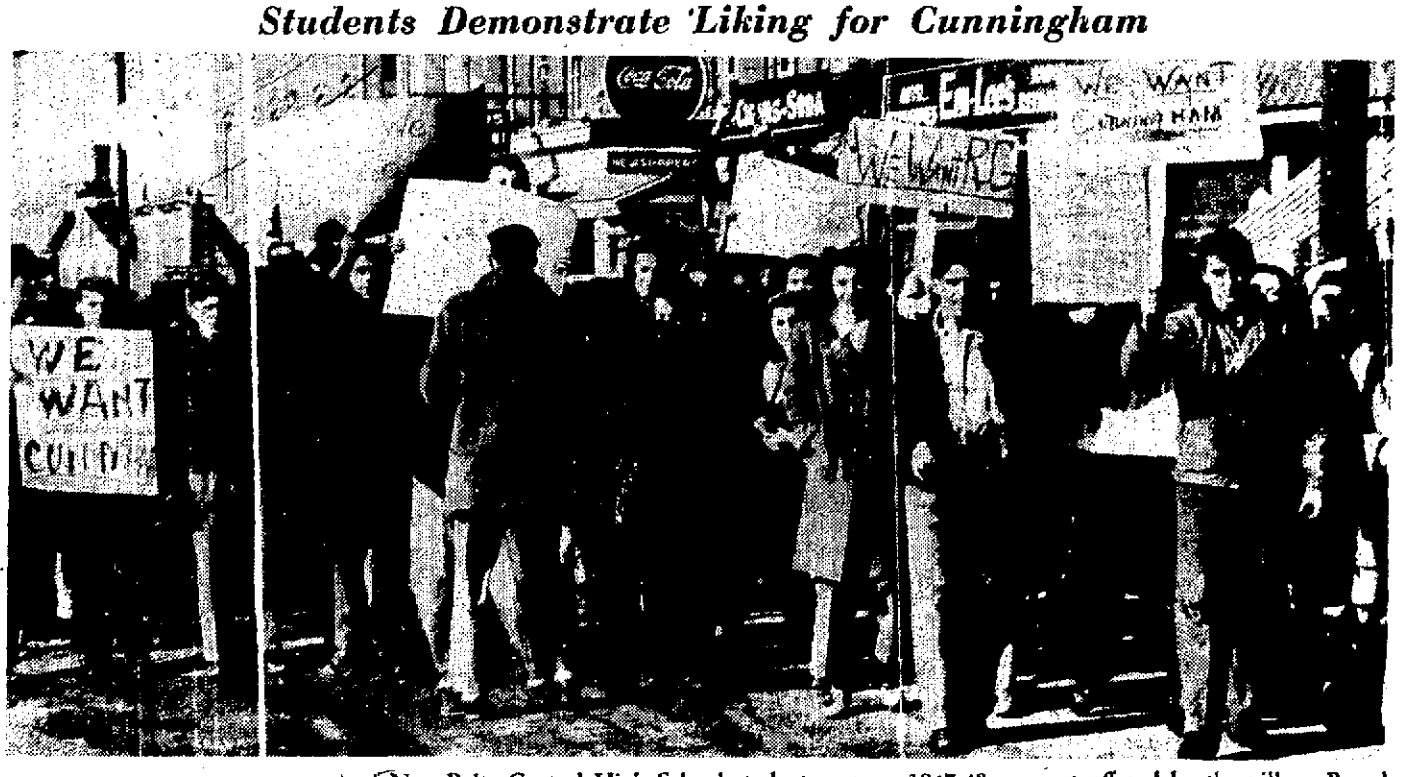

Bevin's part in the Palestine Roadout bridge.

The survey was made by C. W. Baker, head of the Wiltwyck Salvage and Demolition Company that has a splendid record for maritime and general salvage work, Williams said.

Mr. Baker in an estimate prepared for the Chamber of Commerce said it would require about 90 days to clear the rotted barges, tugboats and other craft that now lie buried in the mud in the area north of the bridge.

Mr. Baker said there are now about 46 wooden barges, several smaller craft and nine wooden tugs in the area. The tugs apparently are rising; on the bottom of the creek, dangerously close to the main channel.

No Financing Discussed
Secretary Williams gave no indication as to how such a project could be financed but said the matter will be discussed in the near future.

Conservation Tips on Prevention of Winter Effects

The western dust bowls are not the only places in which there is serious soil erosion—it happens right here in Ulster county—because it seems to be on a small scale little attention is paid to this unnecessary loss of an important agricultural asset, Carlston B. King, Ulster county assistant in conservation, said in discussing the assistance being given to farmers by the agricultural conservation program.

He noted that when severe winds have followed the dry powdery snows of recent weeks the wind-blown deposits of top soil mixed with the drifted snow could be plainly seen. This is particularly true where fields had been plowed in the fall and the blow unprotected top soil has been blown along with the snow, to settle, perhaps, where spring freshets can carry it away.

Loss of Essential Soil
Much of this wind-blown soil, it was stated, represents the finer particles of organic matter, without which soil cannot be very productive. Because of this loss, it was brought out, the old system of fall plowing—formerly considered good farm practice—has been largely discarded by better farm managers.

Many have adopted the practice of leaving as much as possible of their turn in sod cover over the winter and plowing in the spring. Where land has been in crops, cover crops have been sowed, such as wheat and rye, to be plowed under in the spring. This prevents winter erosion of the fields and adds greatly to the organic content of the soil.

Several years ago the agricultural conservation program was adopted, Mr. King said, to aid farmers who felt they could not afford to follow this practice of planting winter cover crops. Under this program farmers who were signed up were offered a definite cash payment to partially offset the cost of planting cover crops which would protect the soils for future generations.

Mr. King said that over the winter of 1945 to 1946 Ulster county farmers planted about 7,500 acres to these soil conserving crops. Where these crops were plowed under in the spring of 1946 farmers received a payment of $1.50 per acre. This payment still represented only about half the cost of the seed alone to say nothing of the labor costs but it did add an incentive for carrying out this soil conserving program, he declared.

Although farmers now signing up for the 1947 program have indicated that even more acreage is planned to winter crops this is said to be still not enough—said every acre of crop land should have some growing cover on it over winter.

Forst Tells Of Calls by Plant Head

John Bott Reports Forman Deposited $1,750 March 23, 1943

Points Coincide

Long, Bott Testimony on Dates Is Reported Same

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Joseph Forman, Kingston, N. Y., attorney, deposited $1,250 in cash and $500 in checks in the State of New York National Bank in Kingston March 29, 1943, John J. Bott, one of the bank's tellers, testified before Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins and a jury today at Forman's trial on a conspiracy indictment.

Bott brought with him the original deposit slips for Forman's account for that date as well as the bank's ledger record of the account which were admitted as exhibits without objection from Joseph L. Delaney, Forman's attorney.

Forman, a former corporation counsel of Kingston and now Ulster county Democratic leader, is on trial with William T. Stanton, 46, of Kingston, a former O.P.A. investigator, and Harold Gottfried, former president of the Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corporation of Ellenville, N. Y., or a conspiracy indictment which alleges they prevented Stanton from making an honest report of an investigation of the corporation.

Gottfried and the corporation also are on trial on an indictment charging a false application for sugar ration made in April 1942. George Long, who was manager of the Pure Rock Corporation, while Gottfried was serving as an officer in the Coast Guard, testified previously that he had paid $1,500 on March 29, 1943, to Forman in his Kingston law office to "take care of" an O.P.A. investigation of the corporation's sugar ration application. That was the same date, Bott testified, that Forman had made the $1,750 deposit.

Formal Testifies
Another witness this morning was Henry Forst of Kingston, secretary-treasurer of the First Packer Company of Kingston. He testified that during 1941 and 1942 he was secretary of the Pure Rock Corporation and signed its checks.

He testified also, without being able to remember the date, that Gottfried had called him to ask where he could reach Forman and that he had given Gottfried Forman's home telephone number.

On cross-examination by Delaney, he testified that he had received a number of other telephone calls from Gottfried which were "friendly calls" and other business calls.

Yesterday in the absence of the jury, attorneys argued in Federal court on the admissibility of documentary evidence in the case.

Judge Harry E. Watkins heard objections by defense counsel against the move by Assistant U. S. Attorney Frederick H. Block for admission of various O.P.A. documents relating to the defendant company.

Meanwhile, John J. McIntyre, special agent of the Treasury Department, was in court in connection with a further argument expected on the question of whether a statement by Stanton to an assistant U. S. attorney should or should not be admitted in evidence.

Moscow, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Russian magazine Znamya, in an article criticizing the late Ernie Pyle's book "Here Is Your War," today characterized the American war correspondent as a "reactionary," R. Faces Car Theft, Driving Charge

William Overbaugh, 28, Held After Crash by State Police

William Overbaugh, 28, of Cairo, whom State Trooper H. H. Galvin said admitted having partaken of 15 beers and "five shots" of liquor prior to starting out on an escape from Cairo Wednesday evening, will face Justice E. E. Schirmer of Saugerties later today on a charge of reckless driving and being an unlicensed operator and he will then be turned over to state troopers from Greene county to face a stolen car charge.

Overbaugh, according to the Greene county troopers, took a car owned by Irving Van Dyke of Cairo and drove over Route 32 toward Saugerties, where near the Schoenung Colonial Tavern, a mile west of Saugerties the car operated by Overbaugh went out of control and crossed over to the opposite side of the highway, striking a Ford pick-up truck driven by James Driscoll, 35, of Box 48, Saugerties.

Both cars were badly damaged and Driscoll and his 10-year-old son, Lawrence, were both injured. Overbaugh also suffered injuries and was taken to the Bonesteel Sanitarium at Saugerties where he remained until today under guard of Trooper Galvin until turned over to the Greene county troopers.

Lawrence Driscoll, 10, suffered very severe lacerations about the face and neck.

Senate Gives Top Priority To Amendment on Tenure

Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Senate Republican leadership gave top priority today to a proposal that future presidents be limited to nine years in office by constitutional amendment.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Judiciary Committee declared the bill "embodies the unwritten construction of American policy observed prior to the time of President Roosevelt."

The measure, which bears a 9 to 1 endorsement of the committee, may come up for debate tomorrow if the Senate disposes of the budget issue by mid-afternoon.

It should be considered aside from the personality of the late President, Wiley told a reporter. "It is for the future rather than the past and personalities should not enter into it."

Question of Tenure Is Involved; Class Work Is Resumed by Students

New Paltz High School students were back at their desks today and at least on the surface the school situation in the district was normal.

Following a demonstration Wednesday morning when practically the entire student body left the high school to march through the village in protest over proposed dismissal of Principal Raymond G. Cunningham, the students returned to their classrooms shortly before noon but maintained they would continue their efforts to convince the Board of Education that Principal Cunningham should be retained.

Petitions are being circulated about the central district for signature of taxpayers, seeking to have the Board change its policy and offer to Mr. Cunningham a contract for the 1947-48 school year. Following a recent meeting Mr. Cunningham was notified that he would not be again offered a contract. This was in accordance with action taken a year ago when the Board of Education notified him that his services would not be required after June 30, 1947 when his present contract expires, a member of the board said today.

When this action by the Board became public, public sentiment was aroused and as a result practically the entire student body

Tests on Fluorine Experiment Show Teeth Will Benefit

Newburgh, Feb. 27—This city found promise this week for its neighboring communities and the rest of the nation in the report that fluorine therapy currently under tests here show a promising trend in building better teeth.

Dr. Sidney Finn, associate research dentist of the State Department of Health told the local Rotary Club at a recent meeting that while tests on 400 school children were "not too significant," they were "showing a trend."

While Newburgh is a virtual test tube for the nation through introduction of fluorine in its water supply, Kingston, Poughkeepsie and other neighboring communities, are serving passively through comparison of trends.

Dr. Finn said that three annual tests among school children indicated an upswing in the next several years in the percentage of negative or no decay cases, which are normally found in 15 per cent of the population.

If the current trend continues so that "in five or six years, the percentage of those with active decay may be reduced to 39 per cent, then we will really be gaining results," Dr. Finn said.

At a 60 per cent reduction in decay is achieved at the end of ten years by the use of one part fluorine to a million parts of water, he added, "we would be more than satisfied."

The tests were introduced in the city in May, 1945.

Girl, 17, Relates Sadist's Attack; Man Is Sought

Jacquelyn Stang Is Found Beneath Railroad Underpass; Says She Was Followed

Long Beach, Calif., Feb. 27 (AP)—Possibly the victim of another sadist, a pretty 17-year-old high school girl was found nearly nude, her body gashed and burned with a cigarette, beneath a railroad underpass last night.

A five-foot, 112-pound blonde, she was identified by police as Jacquelyn Mae Stang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stang. Stang is a Long Beach businessman.

A passing motorist saw her lying below an embankment, where she apparently had rolled after being tossed from a car. Unconscious when picked up, she emerged from the coma in a hospital and, after emergency treatment, was permitted to go home.

Police quoted doctors as saying she had not been raped, and was apparently suffering no ill effects from shock or exposure.

Detective-Inspector C. J. Novotny said the girl told him she was followed by a man as she made her way home from Polytechnic High School about 6 p. m. yesterday.

"I ran," he quoted her, "but he grabbed me when I was near an alley and that is all I can remember. I felt like he put a hand in a leather glove over my mouth."

She was not found until several hours later. Doctors treated lacerations across her chest and a burn on her wrist, which they said had been caused by a lighted cigarette. She had been bound with strips cut from her own underwear.

Novotny said the girl was unable to furnish any description of her assailant, but would be questioned further today.

Meanwhile, in Los Angeles, police acknowledged they were without a lead in their investigations of the sadistic mutilation murders of Elizabeth Short, 22-year-old Medford, Mass., film hopeful, and Jeanne Axford French, 40, bit actress and pioneer aviatrix.

CONCRETE streets are an all-year asset to any city. But you'll appreciate them most when spring "break-ups" have made many streets impassable with mud, ruts, bumps and chuckholes.

Concrete is an all-season pavement: always easy-fiding; skid-resistant, wet or dry; good for decades with very little maintenance. No closing for spring repairs!

Concrete not only saves on spring maintenance. It usually costs less to build than other pavements of equal load-carrying capacity. Be sure your streets are paved with concrete.

Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, Feb. 27 (AP)—Oil reserves, as estimated by the American Company which holds concessions in an area of Saudi Arabia larger than Texas and California combined, will pump more than $1,000,000,000 into the treasury of this desert kingdom.

King Ibn Saud's government receives a royalty of about 21 cents on each barrel of oil taken from the ground. The Arabian American Oil Company estimates that reserves in its area are "conservatively" 5,000,000,000 barrels.

It will take many years to achieve the total royalty indicated by these figures. Production last year was around 60,000,000 barrels, which at 21 cents a barrel meant around $12,600,000 royalty. Company officials hope that the current production rate will be more than doubled by work now recommended.

Saudi Arabia also derives revenue from customs on equipment and supplies imported by the company. Its national income is affected also by Arabian American's monthly payroll, $35,000 of which goes to non-Americans. Most of these non-Americans are Arabs. Some of them live in brick barracks built by the company, others in thatched huts. They have their own mosque in Dhahran. Other non-American employees include Italians, who were brought in from Eritrea during the war.

and are being repatriated gradually.

Got 15 Million Loan

Recently, the government obtained a loan of approximately $15,000,000 from the United States. What will be done with this money, and with Arabian revenue from the oil, is up to King Ibn Saud. The reason he granted concessions to an American company in the first place, according to James MacPherson, resident vice president of Arabian American, was not because it bid higher than British interests but because the king thought the United States would not try to exploit and boss his country.

Ibn Saud told visiting newsmen recently that funds from various sources would be spent constructively on education, public health, irrigation, communications and other fields.

One project he mentioned particularly was a railroad. It is planned to extend 250 miles from the desert from Dammam, on the Persian Gulf, to the king's capital at Riyadh. It would be the first railway in Arabia since a line from the north toward Medina was torn up during World War I to hamper Turkish troops.

At the king's request, the oil company is providing management for an irrigation project at Al Karf. The Saudi Arabian government is paying for this enterprise. It also is ordering a central electrification system for the capital at Riyadh and providing a new water system for the west coast.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 27, 1947

THE LOCAL RETAILER

It takes a great war, with its unprecedented drain on our labor and resources, to reduce this country to an economy of scarcity. In normal times, the average American consumer enjoys the fruits of an economy of abundance.

Retail stores present an accurate gauge of our unprecedented living standards. Every kind and character and quality of goods is found on their shelves. The needs of all tastes, all pocketbooks have been anticipated and met. That is not true of any other country. Abroad, good stores are usually found only in the larger cities and they are patronized most exclusively by people of relatively large income. The person who lives in the smaller cities has small choice when he goes to market.

In Kingston, retailers offer consumers wide selections of goods comparable to those found in big cities. Standard goods of known quality and value are immediately available here.

The local retailer is the consumers' link with the vast American production machine. Without that link, the abundance made possible by mass production would be denied to many people. The local retail store, like the factory, directly affects the well-being of us all.

There are still people who think atomic energy is some new kind of stomach ache—and if you ask us, we often agree with them.

LANDMARK THREATENED

San Francisco apparently does not care for tourists, at least not to the extent of attracting them by keeping a unique city feature. Every visitor to the Golden Gate is impressed by the cable cars that climb steep Nob Hill, and many have been among the passengers who helped to turn the car around at the end of the line. Cable cars used to be fairly common, but San Francisco's must be about the only survivors.

Now Mayor Roger D. Lapham says that the cars must go. Cable rails are no longer made, and spare parts are obtainable only by robbing one car to equip another. The mayor suggests buses. One-time cable men say that the buses will have a merry time on the Powell Street hill on slippery days.

Is San Francisco making a mistake? Uniformity is the disease of American cities. Cincinnati would lose much publicity if it abandoned its one remaining inclined plane, by which street cars run on a platform which is hauled up and down a sharp hill on special rails. Surely San Francisco does not wish to be indistinguishable from Los Angeles?

Some people seem to be worrying because they had too much money in the bank, but time will probably change that.

MILITARY COURTS

The day of officer-dominated court-martial is about over. Secretary of War Patterson has announced that certain recommendations of a committee composed of members of the American Bar Association and the House Military committee would be put into immediate effect in military trials. These include adding enlisted men to the hearing group. Other changes, though approved by the War Department, must await Congressional amendment of the Articles of War. A similar committee has been studying naval trials, with comparable changes planned there.

The army committee reported that sentences were "often excessively severe and sometimes fantastically so." There was some discrimination between officers and men, and "the court-martial system was regarded by most professional officers as a means of enforcing discipline, and as a cloak to cover arbitrariness and injustice."

In view of the fact that 142 men were executed for alleged crimes between Pearl Harbor and February, 1946, one wonders whether any of them went unjustly to their deaths. The important question remains as

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

THE HAPSBURGS

It would seem to me that if the United States really believes that a people ought to have a government of its own choosing, it is none of the business of the United States, Great Britain and Soviet Russia to tell them whom not to choose. For, after all, when a people is told whom not to choose, it is told whom to choose.

If the Austrians want the Hapsburgs back, that is their business. If they do not want the Hapsburgs, it is their business. It is certainly not my business, nor Truman's, nor Attlee's, nor Stalin's.

At the end of World War I, the Allies made certain that the Hapsburgs never returned to the German throne. The idea was "Kill the Kaiser!" because he made the war. So Germany was left without a Kaiser and got a Hitler and there has been a second war. The German people were not free to create their own government or to live their own lives until Hitler came along. Perhaps had the Kaiser been permitted to pull Germany together after World War I, the Austrian house-painter would have remained an Austrian house-painter. Who can be so sure about history?

The Hapsburgs were not involved in Austria's misfortunes leading to this war. The world of Franz Josef had toppled before the war came upon us. Austria attempted to live a republican life and fell into the hands of the Nazis. The Hapsburgs were exiles and during much of this period Otto was a boy, learning to be a pretender.

Some day, maybe the Austrians will wonder whether their lovely Vienna was not a happier place under the Hapsburgs than it is today under Dr. Karl Renner, who attempts to govern in the shadow of the Kremlin without being caught by the shadow.

Kings are all right in their place, but I do not know exactly what the place is. But many human beings in this world look with longing eyes upon those days when kings produced chivalry and their nobles ruled by noblesse oblige which the proletarian politicians of today do not even understand.

What hell on Earth those peoples have had since they got rid of their kings may have no relationship to the absence of royalty, but the coincidence is startling and, to anyone who has had to live with it, a miserable fact. Certainly such countries as Austria, Hungary, and Germany have gained nothing from the abolition of the monarchy and it is very doubtful whether Spain, Portugal, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria are not worse off. Greece got her king back by the grace of England and Rumania has a king through the kindness of Soviet Russia. It is doubtful whether Rumania with a king is worse than Yugoslavia without a king.

The real trouble is that nobody lets anyone alone. Maybe, if all the Great Powers got out of all the small, conquered, or liberated countries and gave those peoples a chance to decide matters for themselves, we might discover that all they want is to live their own lives as they choose without anyone's assistance. If the Austrians should decide to put Otto on the throne, that ought to be their decision and it should not be the decision of anybody else.

Certainly, no country in Europe is getting a democracy out of the shambles of war. Certainly, Tito is no democrat. Certainly, no political democracy is being moulded in Germany. In fact, it is difficult to see at this moment what kind of a government the Big Four will let the Germans have. France's government is a compromise between Democracy and Bolshevism and nobody knows what the next crisis will bring.

As long as the world is so mixed up, why pick on the king as the worst of all? Let us pick on the dictators and hardly as expensive. Their trappings come high but not as high as the politics of the Tyrants and they were often better human beings, more decent in their attitude towards other human beings. The Hapsburgs, in their nearly thousand years of history, never produced the slavery that Stalin produced in a quarter of a century. It is something to think about.

CHRONIC HEADACHE

It must have come as a surprise and also a source of amusement to read of a magazine writer who attempted to belittle the medical profession by relating his experience with several physicians. To make up a story he visited those physicians and told each one that he had a headache and he told his readers in all seriousness that he received a different prescription from each physician. As there are at least 150 different causes of headache and he must have described a headache that was not present, that he received different prescriptions was only natural.

As a matter of fact patients with chronic headache are numerous and the cause of some of these headaches requires considerable searching by the physician, and extreme patience by the afflicted patient.

A convenient classification of headaches is by Drs. Arnold P. Friedman, Charles Brenner and Dr. H. Houston Merritt, New York, in headache following injury or operation, and headache due to emotional disturbance. The latter, in general, there is no organic disease present which could possibly cause or be a partial cause of headaches. They are chiefly women who have usually had headaches for many years, of either the acute, recurrent or the continuous, chronic type. The location and character of the headaches differ and there may be warning symptoms such as fear of light, nausea, and dimness of vision. In nearly all the women patients the headaches are worse before or during menses.

Whether the headache is migrainous or after injury or operation or during emotional stress, all are caused by dilatation of the blood vessels particularly in head and neck, and all three types of headache are brought on or made worse by emotional stress and inner conflicts. This does not mean that all headaches are caused by emotional disturbances because X-rays of the head show other cause. It does mean however that trying to learn and help straighten out inner conflicts is a most important part of the treatment, whatever the cause.

In the medical treatment of headaches the suggestions are: Migraine (one sided headache) treated by ergotamine, and for headaches following injury or due to emotional stress, the salicylates with a small amount of caffeine and a mild action barbiturate. No narcotic drugs should be used.

British-American Informality Is Displayed in Bevins Criticism of American Politics, and Truman's Reply

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 27.—It is evidence of the informality and intimacy which prevails between the British and American governments that a prime minister in London should be speaking of American politics as a motivating factor in the decision of President Truman on the Palestinian question and that the American President should be making reply to the criticism of British policy in times gone by—that is, many years ago—it would have been considered quite an affront for a friendly government to comment on a matter so plainly internal as the party politics of this country.

But Prime Minister Attlee of the labor government has been an observer in the debates in Parliament under the leadership of predecessor, Winston Churchill.

It will be recalled that not so long ago Mr. Churchill expressed some irritation when the question of fixing the boundaries of Poland and other phases of the Polish controversy were up for consideration. Mr. Churchill didn't hesitate to say that "considerations of American politics had made the settlement to that problem difficult for Mr. Roosevelt and he mentioned with some impudence the influence of the Polish vote in the United States as a factor in the presidential elections of 1944."

There have been occasions when American observers, not necessarily officials, have called attention to activities in British politics which have prompted some expression of public policy. But it is doubtful whether the records will yield any public comment on British politics by any American official and certainly none from any American secretary of state.

So perhaps the British and American administrations of today have put aside the "normalities" of previous procedure and now speak right up when it comes to explaining what goes on in the making of foreign policy.

It is, of course, not any surprise to find that American interest in external questions is sometimes related to domestic politics. For many years Americans of Irish descent pleaded their cause and obtained not only resolutions of sympathy at national party conventions but spoke through representatives in Congress who had constituencies with large Irish populations.

Way back when Britain was involved in a war with the Boers in South Africa, the Democratic party pleaded its Irish American constituents by adopting a plank expressing sympathy with the Boers.

To find the Palestinian question entangled with American politics, therefore, is in line with tradition. The United States is made up of many groups which have their origin in other lands, there are various societies composed of descendants of European immigrants. Whenever a question affecting these same countries arises, it usually means petitioning letters or communications or resolutions from these societies addressed to American members of Congress or officials of the Department of State. The inference always is that the voting power of these groups may be exercised to support their pleas.

Perhaps the most important instance of behind-the-scenes influence of such political groups occurred during World War I. The late President Wilson undertook, quite informally but nevertheless firmly, to urge upon the British government a settlement of the then-turbulent Irish question, and he pointed to the necessity for welding American sentiment behind the war issue rather than to allow irritations to grow to the point that some feeling for Britain inside the U. S. would be alienated. It is believed that Mr. Wilson did help in shaping what was subsequently determined upon as British policy in Ireland.

During the same period, Mr. Wilson used his influence with Foreign Secretary Balfour of the British government to obtain a declaration with respect to the future of Palestine which was regarded as of the utmost importance at the time and was called the "Balfour Declaration." There was no secret about the fact that influential groups in the United States brought about Mr. Wilson's action.

The question of where political or vote considerations begin and end and how much the actions of Mr. Wilson or Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Truman, respectively, were swayed by a feeling that the minority groups were asking for justice or by a desire to please a substantial segment of the electorate is not, of course, susceptible of any explicit proof. It is a fact that throughout American history, American political parties and substantial numbers of men in the House and Senate have expressed sympathy with oppressed peoples or with groups striving for independence.

Quite often in our history the Department of State, in tactful and discreet but nevertheless plain language, has indicated American sympathy with groups seeking to improve their lot under foreign rule. This has been a policy of Republican as well as Democratic presidents, and not much new is added when a British prime Minister raises the issue. Those observers familiar with politics in Britain will confirm what Senator Brewster of Maine, Republican, said this week in the Senate about the pledges made during the British Labor party campaign last year with respect to Palestine.

The whole incident merely makes more or less of a record of how international policy nowadays is influenced to some extent in all countries by the sympathies with particular causes existing outside their borders. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Proclaims Ericson Day
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—Gov. Orin Dewey today proclaimed March 9 as "John Ericson Day." He urged public tribute to the builder of the Union gunboat Monitor which won an historic Civil War encounter from the Confederate Merrimack in the first naval battle between ironclad ships. The Senate and Assembly, in joint resolution, called for a proclamation to honor Ericson whose ship was launched at Greenpoint, N. Y.

Catholics Oppose Education Measure

in the method it proposes." The group did not specify the provisions to which it objected. The Most Rev. William A. Scully, Bishop coadjutor of the Albany Diocese and chairman of the Catholic Welfare Committee, declined to expand.

To Stand on Statement
"We will stand on our statement for the present time," he said.

The signatures included: Bishop Scully, Bishop John P. O'Hara of Buffalo and Auxiliary Bishop J. Francis A. McIntyre of the New York Archdiocese.

Senator Walter L. Mahoney, Buffalo Republican, and Assemblyman Bernard J. Austin, Brooklyn Democrat, introduced the bill. It would make it an "unfair practice" for educational institutions to discriminate on racial or religious grounds in the admission of students and the selection of faculties and administrative personnel.

A three-member commission, similar to the one now administering the Ives-Quinn law prohibiting racial and religious discrimination in employment, would be created with power to investigate alleged discrimination and issue "cease and desist" orders enforceable by the courts.

Flareup Over Terms
A flareup between senate and assembly leaders, of both parties, occurred yesterday when the assembly defeated, 56 to 41, a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to double the term of senators to four years.

Senate Republicans were reported to have threatened in reprisals to defeat a pending proposal to permit legislators to raise their $2,500 salaries.

After conferences the dispute was settled, and on motion of Assemblyman Harry A. Reoux, Warrenburg Republican, the four-year senate term resolution was reconsidered and tabled for another vote.

The Republican majorities of both houses crushed democratic motions to discharge from committees for a vote five of six bills proposed by Mayor William O'Dwyer to give New York city $102,000,000 more in state aid than the $191,000,000 provided in the budget.

Raise Looks Promising
Trenton, N. J., Feb. 27 (AP)—New Jersey teachers may look forward today to legislation increasing minimum yearly salaries from $1,200 to a starting scale between $2,000 and $2,400 with the approval of Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll. Sources close to the governor said an administration formula to start teachers at $2,400 in large municipalities, and between $2,000 and $2,400 in others was being prepared for passage by the State Legislature.

value of windbreaks in helping to check wind erosion. In this connection it seems that the cutting down of the old hedge rows that grew up along stone walls and along the borders of fields, while it may have made the fields look "neater," on the other hand opened up the fields to the clean sweep of winter winds and the fields were robbed of their protective covering of snow.

"Look over your fields and think twice before you cut that hedge row, you actually may be saving money by leaving it there," said Mr. King. "Each year we spend thousands of dollars on spraying and dusting materials to combat the ravages of insects. Every time you cut down a hedge row you are making your spraying and dusting problem more expensive. Why? Because you are destroying the homes of your best friends, the birds. Birds must have brush and trees in which to nest, and they will repay you many times over if you leave them enough cover in which to hide and rear their young. Most birds are forever on the watch for insects for their food. If you remove their living quarters they won't be there very long to help you. Why spend more for sprays and dusts when you can help yourself by helping the birds. It has been said, that a single pair of plant lice, if unmolested—and the birds eat them by the millions—would in five years time completely dominate this earth."

Boy Is Found Hanging In School Cloakroom

Baltimore, Feb. 27 (AP)—Nine-year-old Bruce Jennings, found hanging by a woolen scarf from a hook in the cloakroom of an Essex, Md., school, was reported in critical condition today at City Hospital.

Essex police said his teacher discovered the boy unconscious yesterday shortly after she had sent him to the cloakroom as punishment for rapping another third-grader over the head with a book. Corporal Harry Freund and Patrolman Carroll Hufnagel said the teacher, Mrs. Audrey J. Edwards, told them she got no answer when she called to him after ten minutes to come out.

She found him with his feet on the floor and his knees buckled with the scarf wrapped around his throat and one end secured to the coathook, the officers said. The crew of a police radio car was unable to detect any heartbeat in the boy when they arrived, and Bruce responded only after stimulants and artificial respiration had been administered for more than half an hour.

Says Party Has 17,009,000

London, Feb. 27 (AP)—Communists throughout the world now total 17,009,000, delegates to the conference of British Empire Communist parties were informed today. Charts prepared by the Communist party of Great Britain and displayed at conference headquarters said that 56 countries had parties which, though not necessarily calling themselves Communist, were based on the teachings of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin. Soviet Russia, the charts said, has 6,000,000 Communists, Italy 2,200,000, China 2,000,000, the United States 74,000 and Great Britain 43,000.

marched from school Wednesday morning in demonstration. During the morning while the demonstration was going on several students who did not desire to take part in the affair, remained at the school building. However, Mr. Cunningham said today, that this number had been so small that it had been impossible to carry on class work. Later in the morning he went downtown to meet with the demonstrators and following this meeting, Mr. Cunningham persuaded the marching group to return to school and classes were resumed shortly before noon.

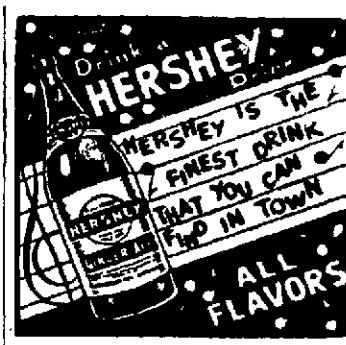

Mr. Cunningham stated that he had received notice from the Board of Education, following a meeting on February 18, stating that his services would not be required next year. No specific reason was given, the board simply reiterating a statement which was made last year when contracts were sent out, stating that the 1946-47 school year would be the last one for which a contract would be given Mr. Cunningham.

Question of Tenure
The question of permanent tenure appears to be involved in the issue. On April 16, 1945, when the matter of tenure was written into the school law, Mr. Cunningham had already signed a contract for the 1945-46 school year. That contract did not anticipate the usual three year probation period which is required before permanent tenure is effected. Mr. Cunningham stated that he was not particularly interested in tenure and had consequently not sought to have his contract amended so that the three-year probation period might start that year. However, he stated today, that his oversight was a technicality and intimated that he believed he should be given probation credit for that year, even though he had not taken the option of turning back the contract for amendment to specifically state that probation started with the year 1945-46. Mr. Cunningham has been with the New Paltz school system for 18 years. Mr. Cunningham and Frederick E. Heinsch, shop instructor, are the only two members of the teaching staff who have been notified that new contracts will not be forthcoming to the ensuing school year. No action had been taken today by the board toward calling a special meeting. The next regular meeting will be held on March 18. Electricians Hit Congress

Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—The C.I.O. United Electrical Workers Union declared today that all pending labor legislation is "injurious" to employees and aimed directly at the foot on their tables and clothes on their backs. Singled out for special attention a bill by Senator Ball (R-Minn.) to outlaw industry wide bargaining, calling it "another legislative effort to stack the cards against workers that can only result in industrial chaos."

WE NEED AN OFFENSIVE

Apparently this administration is not going to assume the offensive in world diplomacy, but will remain on the humiliating and costly defensive.

Many of us hoped that Marshall, as Secretary of State, would begin to cut the Muscovites down to their rightful size, encouraging the under dogs all over the Red dominated countries to maintain resistance, and discouraging Russian expansion.

But the Soviets continue to keep us backed into our corner by their bludgeoning tactics, playing up a deal by one of our oil companies sharing a development in Iran, accusing us of making war material available to Chiang, charging us with effecting a military alliance with Britain against the Soviets, and, more recently, with an alliance with Canada threatening the Soviet's polar approach.

Instead of striking out at the Kremlin, taking advantage of its boundless guilt and moral and legal vulnerability, Marshall has even retreated on one front, the Far East. He was wise in withdrawing out troops from China because they were only a source of irritation among our friends there; but when he let Moscow scare him into withdrawing our moral and economic support from China he let down one of the last potentially strong friends we have left.

The Polish election was a fait accompli when Marshall took office but he could have made great capital of the Russian infiltration there, together with the fraud and terrorism, in violation of Stalin's promise.

All over the world our prestige continues to slip. Poles, Balts, Yugoslavs and Rumanians here complain bitterly that we do nothing more than send Moscow a note of mild protest against flagrant violations of agreements, which agreements themselves were bad enough.

France and Italy have little reason to look toward us any more. Their governments are socialistic with a serious Communist threat; and the support we could have given to the rightist majorities we have, as a rule, thrown to the so-called middle group, the socialists—who in turn play ball with the Communists.

The Germans are reluctant to turn toward us for future friendship and support, because we offer them no assurance of anything better than Russia offers. U.N.R.R.A. and our Military Government have been badly infiltrated with Reds. The Germans have suffered from such infiltration.

Furthermore, the German people apparently see our New Deal for what it is: a socialistic regime, too heavily influenced by Communists to permit us to adopt a forthright diplomacy against the Soviets. Many citizens of the Reich reportedly feel that either way they turn, East or West, they face socialism or perhaps Communism, within the near future. We here at home realize that we are not that far gone, that another good election will wash out much of our crimson stain; but the Germans are dubious.

Our administration has been afraid that a strong diplomatic offensive would alienate its powerful left wing support. The leftists, too, have insisted that we might offend the men in the Kremlin and bring down their terror on us—perhaps another war.

This is not true, of course. Experience has shown that the Kremlin can't stand pressure; its face is too Red with guilt. Pressure is precisely the way to avoid more serious trouble with Russia.

There are a number of things we might do. It is late, but not too late to issue an official expose of the many violations of agreements in the Yugoslav elections perhaps even breaking off diplomatic relations with that country.

Such a break would show Stalin we mean business from here on. Before Molotov could get back his balance we should follow up with a white paper on Po and, exposing the violation of Stalin's agreement with us in the recent elections, demanding that the thousands of Russian citizens be withdrawn from the country, and insisting on another election, a really free election.

We should follow through with Rumania's case, too, and the pitiful case of the Balts should be examined. There is no end to Soviet guilt. We should release bolt after bolt, so timed as to keep the Red diplomats back on their heels, accompanying our offensive with an intense campaign of truthful propaganda exposing the deceit and cruelty of the Red leaders.

We could get along very well with the Bolsheviks on this basis. (Copyright, 1947, by John F. Dille Co.)

To Aid With Taxes

Expert help in preparing state income tax returns will be provided at the court house, Kingston,

March 3 through 8 and April 7 through 15, George P. Klein, director of the State Income Tax Bureau announced today. Taxpayers must have full information on deductions because the state has no flat allowance. Single persons with net income and net capital gain of $1,000 or more, must file. The figure is $2,600 or more for married couples. Anyone whose gross income was $5,000 or more must file.

Up to Appeals Court

New York, Feb. 27 (AP)—The nine Longhams restaurants here have until tomorrow midnight to seek temporary liquor licenses from the State Court of Appeals that would keep them from having to close their bars. The Appellate Division upheld last night, by a 4-to-1 vote, the State Liquor Authority's action in refusing to renew the licenses for the reason that Henry Lustig, president of the restaurant chain, and E. Allan Lustig, secretary, were convicted of Federal income tax evasion. They have appeals pending.

Plea to Spare Three From Chair Made to Governor Dewey

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—A plea to spare the lives of three World War Two veterans, sentenced to die March 6 in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison for the holdup slaying of an Astoria motorist, is before Governor Dewey.

Counsel for the trio, Edward Koberski, 22; Edward Kabkoska, 23, and Henry Suckov, 25, all of Astoria, urged the governor at a clemency hearing yesterday to commute sentences (1) life imprisonment, asserting the three were not adjusted to civilian life when mustered out of service.

The trio was convicted last July in Queens county court of first degree murder in the shooting of Antonio Marchisella during a holdup.

New York city police also accused the three of leading to death, Jack Hylands, a war veteran, and of attacking his fiancée, Yvonne Kenny, in Central Park, three hours before the Marchisella slaying.

In clemency cases, no decision is announced unless the governor decides to commute the sentence.

County Legion Is Seeking Reason For Resignation

Reports from the monthly meeting of the Ulster County American Legion, held at High Falls Tuesday evening, indicate that there was a long and heated discussion from the floor when the subject of the recent resignation of Harry H. Karnaghan as director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency was brought before the meeting.

Thomas Bohan, commander of the County Legion, who presided at the meeting, finally brought the discussion to a close. Later, on a motion to that effect, he named a committee to meet and confer with the veteran committee of the board of supervisors. The Legion committee will seek for the reasons behind the request, as alleged by Mr. Karnaghan, for the latter's resignation and its prompt acceptance by the board of supervisors.

Commander Bohan named as such committee Charles H. Hummer, Jr., Kingston, chairman, Jack Lechner of Saugerties and LeGrand Hurlburt, commander of Lloyd Post of Highland.

The veteran affairs committee of the board of supervisors is composed of John T. Groves, chairman, Albert N. Cook and Clifford Schantz, all of whom are veterans.

Mr. Karnaghan's resignation was submitted to the Ulster County Board of Supervisors at their meeting of January 23 and was accepted, effective March 1. At that same meeting the board approved the nomination of Howard C. Shurtz to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Karnaghan's resignation.

Has Record Membership
A feature of the meeting of the County Legion was the announcement that the Legion now has the largest membership in its history, with a total enrollment of 1,979.

The new constitution and by-laws were adopted, after lengthy discussion and a few changes in the original draft.

May 10 was set as the date for the annual visit of State Department Commander Earl C. Hitchcock. Commander Bohan will name the chairman of a committee to make plans for the annual dinner and visit.

It was decided to hold a mass ritualistic service for all new members of the Legion at a date in late spring or early summer. Kingston was selected as the site for the service, when a ritualistic team of state-wide fame will induct all new members in the county, with impressive ceremony.

A service of refreshments and the usual social get-together of the meeting were enjoyed after the meeting. The next county meeting will be held in New Paltz the last week in March.

Rockland Residents Have No Gas Worry

Spring Valley, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—For the first time in three days, residents of 2,500 homes in Rockland county, 20 miles up the Hudson river from New York city, could get out of bed this morning without wondering if their furnace gas was going to be cut off at 8 a. m.

The Rockland County Gas Company, which at the "zero hour" yesterday morning had extended the deadline 24 hours, announced last night that midday temperatures are improving in the supply from its Pittsburgh sources probably would make further curtailment of service unnecessary.

The gas company and the Rockland/Light and Power Company, which three days ago shut off gas to non-essential commercial customers, said that "the emergency still exists" and that service would not be resumed fully until supplies returned to normal.

Byrne Suggests Rotarians Act on City War Memorial

Cites Lag in Collecting for Testimonial to Those Who Were in Service

Addressing fellow Rotarians, Wednesday, James P. Byrne, former army major, deplored the lack of response to the appeal of the Mayor's Welcome Home and World War 2 Committee for memorial funds.

At the weekly luncheon of the Kingston Rotary Club in the Governor Clinton Hotel, Major Byrne not only asserted that disinterest was reflected in the negligent amount raised over a period of a year, but suggested that a committee of Rotarians be named to study the matter and report findings to the club.

Major Byrne's remarks were prompted, he said, by information that only 20 per cent of the quota specified for a memorial had been collected in a year's campaign to raise money for symbol of honor to those who served in World War 2.

In order to expedite erection of the memorial, he said that the monument firm with which he is connected would provide one at cost, if a granite or marble testimonial were chosen as a symbol of honor to the ex-service men and women of Kingston.

Major Byrne stated he did not believe the citizens of Kingston were unappreciative of the deeds of those who gave their lives for their country, those who returned home maimed and those who went through the trials and privations of war. However, organized cooperation of service clubs he felt is necessary if the campaign is to be successful. A discussion period followed participated in by many of the members.

In opening his talk Mr. Byrne dwelt on the proud history of Kingston's sons and daughters through seven wars of this country, of the distinction in possessing one of the oldest military units in line of succession in the United States, the 156th. He deplored the fact that Kingston's participation in seven wars was recognized by only two public memorials to attest the deeds of its sons. They are the Civil War and World War One Memorials.

Rotarian Byrne also outlined the history of notable memorials of the world dating from 2500 B. C. to famous memorials of the present century. He referred to the Pyramid of Cheops in Egypt, the largest structure ever built by man; the Arch of Constantine in Rome, one of the best preserved of Roman Antiquities, the Arc de Triomphe in Paris, where so great is the respect for its significance Hitler's Army walked around instead of through the Arch while entering Paris in 1940.

American Memorials such as the Washington Monument declared most worthy of the people, where seen from the White House. It has been the inspiration of harassed presidents since its completion in 1884 and the Lincoln Memorial in Washington recognized as one of the finest works of architecture in America. The Cenotaph of London and our own Unknown Soldiers Tomb, he pointed out was a medium by which history is traced, the outward proof of the scene of continuity between one generation and the next.

Buffalo Teachers May Not Accept State's Proposal
Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—The president of the striking Buffalo Teachers Federation tentatively turned down today a proposed state salary guarantee of $2,200 to $4,250 for the city's 2,960 instructors but indicated he would leave the final decision to his organization's executive body.

Raymond J. Ast, president of the Teachers Federation (independent), which has 2,400 members on strike, said that without federal sanction he could accept no terms unless they included an immediate $500 cost-of-living bonus.

Informed that the committee's report was expected to recommend a minimum starting salary of $2,200 for a three-year probationary period for Buffalo teachers, and a $4,150 minimum after 13 years, Ast inquired:

"Is the state making this mandatory? How is it to be financed?" He said of a proposed financing system, which purportedly provides that the localities pay their share through new local taxes, that "apparently that would toss it right back to the city."

Expected to Sign Decree
Havana, Feb. 27 (AP)—President Ramon Grau San Martin was expected to sign today a decree ordering the deportation to Italy of Charles (Lucky) Luciano, one-time New York vice chief. Interior Minister Alfredo Pequenao said Luciano would be required to leave Cuba by the first available means of transportation after the decree is signed. He has been in Cuba since last October.

Norwalk Teacher Salary Proposal $2,400-$6,000

Norwalk, Conn., Feb. 27 (AP)—A salary schedule ranging from a minimum of $2,400 a year to $6,000 has been recommended by a committee of three leading eastern educators for the teachers of this city who went on a 10-day strike last September until a compromise settled their pay dispute.

Stating that it would cost the city $221,245 more than is now being spent for education "if increases are fully installed in 1947-48," the committee said the question of whether this would be done was one of willingness rather than of ability to pay.

"Norwalk can afford what is necessary to purchase good schools for its children," the report said.

Dewey Committee Gives Report on Teacher Salaries

Schedules Range From $2,000 to $4,510 in Upstate Areas, More in New York

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—Governor Dewey's special committee on education today recommended permanent minimum teachers salary schedules ranging from $2,000 to $4,510 upstate and from $2,500 to $5,125 in New York city.

For teachers with a master's degree or its equivalent $200 would be added to each salary level.

The proposed schedule included these rates:
School districts of side cities of 100,000—$2,000-$4,100; $2,200-$4,300 for those with master's degrees.

Cities of 100,000 to 1,000,000—$2,200-$4,510; $2,400-$4,710 with master's degrees.
New York city—$2,500-$5,125; $2,700-$5,325 with master's degrees.

The report said a transition "from salary schedule now in effect to the new schedules shall be undertaken beginning July 1."

"The ultimate cost of the proposed schedules as applied to the number of teachers now in service," the report added, "will be approximately $52,000,000 more than the total current salaries as of December 1946."

"The major share of the salary increases that will be called for in the school year 1947-1948 x x x are presently available in the $32,000,000 appropriated for emergency increases in January."

The report said "it has already been indicated that the administration will recommend additional taking powers to be conferred locally for educational purposes in connection with a general program of increased local taxing powers. This is outside the direct purview of this committee and we understand that the details concerning these special local taxes will be forthcoming within a few days."

The committee recommended that "pending further and permanent revisions to be offered in 1948," next year's legislature should appropriate "a further $6,400,000 to carry the program through June 30, 1948."

The recommendations will be submitted to the legislature Monday for consideration at the current session.

The ultimate minimums would be attained in the 16th year of teaching through automatic and promotional increments.

Red Baiting Is Charged Against Congress Group

C.I.O. Electrical Union Denies Affiliation With Communists; Leader Irked

Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—Top officers of the C.I.O. United Electrical Workers today flatly denied Communist membership and accused the Senate Labor Committee of "red-baiting."

Three leaders of the union, headed by Albert J. Fitzgerald, president, flared back at questions by Senators Taft (R., Ohio) and Ball (R.-Minn.) with protests against "innuendo" and "lies and slander."

Fitzgerald, after testifying that he was against barring "Communists, Socialists, Democrats, Republicans or anyone else" from union membership for reasons of "race, creed or political belief," snapped as he rose to leave:

Call It Red Baiting
"If I have seen one of the finest examples of Red-baiting here this morning, we came here to testify on labor legislation."

Taft interrupted him, "—and you failed to do so, Mr. Fitzgerald. You haven't discussed anything that is before the committee."

We had been on our testimony only two minutes, Fitzgerald rejoined, "when you injected the Communist issue."

Ball asked the union president whether he regarded James J. Matles, the union's secretary-treasurer, and Julius Emspak, director or organization, as Communist or Communist sympathizers. Fitzgerald said he did not, and suggested the committee ask the officers directly.

Matles, next to be called, was greeted with the question point-blank.

Denies He's Red
"It do not happen to be one," he said firmly. He denied belief in Communist doctrines, as well, and under a barrage of questions said he had never been a Communist at any time in his life.

Emspak, the next witness, promptly volunteered: "Before you ask the question, the answer is no."

Halts Subpoena
Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—Rep. Bradley (R-Mich.) today "temporarily suspended" the serving of a subpoena against Secretary of State Marshall by a House merchant marine subcommittee. Bradley, who is chairman of the full committee, acted shortly after the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Weichel (R-Ohio), had issued the subpoena for Marshall to appear and produce all records and communications dealing with the wartime transfer of United States ships to Russia.

V.A. Gratuity Payment Is Exempt From Tax

The four per cent gratuity payment made by the Veterans Administration on the government backed portion of a G.I. loan is exempt from Federal income tax, it was announced today by Edward P. O'Dell of the Kingston contact office at 286 Fair street.

The V.A. official's statement was issued following receipt of a formal ruling requested by the V.A. from the commissioner of internal revenue.

The original G.I. Bill provided for payment by V.A. for the first year's interest on the guaranteed portion of the loan. While this payment was not taxable as income, it nevertheless could not be listed by the veteran as a tax deduction since the interest actually was paid by the government.

The amended G.I. Bill provides that the V.A. shall pay the lender, for credit to the veteran's account, an amount equal to four per cent of the guaranteed or insured portion of the G.I. loan. This is not a payment of interest as such, but may be credited against the loan, in any manner agreed upon by the veteran and lender, Mr. O'Dell explained.

Maroons Set for Vital Tilt With N.F.A. Friday

Locals Need Win to Cop Second Half Bunting; Kins Warns Charges of Over-Confidence

Riding on a 10-game winning streak, Kingston High School's basketball team is marking time until Friday's vital DUSO League clash with Newburgh at the municipal auditorium which will decide whether the locals will cop the second half bunting or whether a playoff with Liberty will be necessary to settle the second round issue.

On the basis of play to date the Maroons will enter the fray as decided favorites. Kingston defeated Newburgh earlier in the season by 72 to 50.

Although the locals haven't tasted defeat since losing 45-43 to Middletown, Coach G. Warren Kins is warning his charges of over-confidence.

Newburgh offered an able scoring punch despite its previous loss to Kingston and with the opportunity of knocking the wind out of Kingston's sails tomorrow, the Goldbacks will be doubly tough.

Kingston's edge on pre-game odds is due to its high-geared offense which has rolled up 886 points in 16 games for an average of 55.4 per game. In league play the Maroons have scored 507 to Newburgh's 386. Kingston's opposition has totaled 603 markers in those 16 games.

Featuring a new scoring attack which finds the forwards and guards hitting the hoop with marked regularity of late, the Klaxmen have improved since the start of the season. For the major part of the campaign Ed Weaver was Kingston's main ticket as far as scoring was concerned. Now George Glaser, Mike Rlenzo, Bob Gheer and the others have found the range to give the locals a scoring punch from the first man to the last.

Coach Kins is expected to open with Glaser and Rlenzo at forwards, Weaver center and Joe Albany and Gheer in the backcourt. Kenny Lowe, forward, and Harry Koch, guard, also figure to see action tomorrow night.

Jay Hodges, Joe LaGrotta, Al Steinman, Marv Schutt, Joe Esser, LaFaro, McVeigh and R. Shapiro are expected to see the bulk of action for Newburgh.

Hermit Says Too Many Folk Have 'Distemper'

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—Noah Rondeau, Adirondack hermit, says the city is "fine and all that" but there are "too many people with civilization's distemper."

Resting in a hotel room here, 22 miles from his wilderness retreat at Cold River Flow, after appearing at the New York City Sportsman's Show, Rondeau explained yesterday that by "civilization's distemper" he meant the common cold.

The 63-year-old Rondeau will attend a sportsman's show in Albany, opening Saturday.

Jack Quinn, Port Jervis Star, Signs With Grid Yankees

Jack Quinn, All DUSO tackle on Port Jervis' championship team of 1934, has signed a contract to play professional football with the New York Yankees of the All-American Conference for an undisclosed sum.

Although salary terms were not revealed, it is believed that the Port star was given a bonus for signing with the Yanks rather than with the Boston Yanks of the rival National Professional League. Both teams made bids for him in the annual college-pro draft.

After starring at Port Jervis High, Quinn went to St. Bonaventure in 1939 where he played quarterback. He is due to receive the Most Valuable Player Award for the Little Three Conference consisting of St. Bonaventure, Canisius and Niagara in May. He played with the Bonnies under Coach Hugh Devore, former Notre Dame griddler.

The former Port griddler enlisted in the army in 1942 and rose from a private in the Quartermaster Corps to First Lieutenant in the Fifth Army's Corps of Combat Engineers. He returned from service late in 1945.

Mayer Thoroughbreds Will Be Sold Tonight

Arcadia, Calif., Feb. 27 (AP)—Hailed as the greatest dispersal sale in American turf annals, 60 thoroughbreds of the Louis B. Mayer Stable go into the auction ring tonight at Santa Anita Park. Some 4,000 invitations were snapped up by turf followers, most of them interested in bidding for the horses, but thousands clamored for tickets to see what promises to be something of a show, certainly never witnessed here.

The sale begins at 7:30 p. m. (Pacific Standard Time) and auctioneers hope to sell a horse on an average of every three minutes.

Goshen Tramples Liberty 49 to 25

Team's 12th Win in 14 Games This Season

Goshen Central School's basketball team added the scalp of the Liberty High Redskins to its collection Tuesday night by scoring a 45 to 29 win over the DUSO League club. It was Goshen's 12th triumph in 14 starts.

The winners started slowly leading 11-5 at the opening quarter and 19-13 at the half. A second half outburst riddled the hopes of Liberty, however, as Goshen piled up a 33 to 17 edge at the third quarter.

Jay Decker, Goshen guard, led his club in scoring, with 13 points. Arnold Smith and "Rocky" Miller followed with 11 and 10 each. Don Huffmire collected nine for Liberty.

The game served as a reunion for Coaches Glenn Sprague of Goshen and Jack George of Liberty. Both were class and team-mates 15 years ago while at Rome, N. Y.

44th Indoor Tennis Title Play to Begin

New York, Feb. 27 (AP)—Tennis returns to Park avenue today with two of the game's brightest stars heading the field for the 44th annual national indoor championships at the Seventh Regiment Armory.

For the first time since before the war, the complete set of indoor titles will be fought out under one roof, when the windup is reached on March 8, champions will be crowned in men's and women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles.

Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, national outdoor champion and probably the best amateur in the game today, tops the list of 51 entered in the men's singles. Kramer, who led the U. S. Davis Cup team to victory in 1946, will be making his first major appearance on the boards since 1941.

The feminine ranks are topped by Kramer's opposite number among the women, Pauline Betz of Los Angeles. Holder of both the U. S. and Wimbledon titles, the nation's first ranking feminine star will be shooting for her fourth indoor singles championship.

Hogan Is at Top Of Florida Entries

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP)—Ben Hogan, leading professional money winner of the winter golfing tour, headed a list of 181 entries for the $10,000 St. Petersburg Open Tournament scheduled to begin today.

The 72-hole tourney will be medal play with the entry list being trimmed Saturday and Sunday to the 60 best scoring pros and the 10 best amateurs.

Streams Get Their First Supply of Trout for '47

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—New York streams have received their first stocking of trout for the 1947 season.

The State Conservation Department announced yesterday that a carload of approximately 19,000 young stocked in Putnam county. Two other carloads were sent to the Summitville rearing station for Catskill area streams and a carload to the Cold Spring Harbor hatchery for Long Island waters.

Other trout will be stocked in Westchester county, March 2; Delaware county (East Branch of Delaware river), March 5, and Dutchess county, March 8.

Yankees to Go to Caracas
San Juan, P. R., Feb. 27 (AP)—The New York Yankees, holding a 3-2 edge in their exhibition games here, planned a getaway contest with an island team today. Tomorrow they leave by plane for Caracas, Venezuela. The Bronx Bombers defeated the Puerto Rican All-Stars 8-6 yesterday.

Loose fielding had the five Yankee pitchers in hot water most of the time, two miscues sending the All-Stars off to a four-run lead in the first. A four-run Yank rally in the ninth sewed up the game.

No Beavers in 1947

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—Conservation Commissioner Perry B. Duryea announced today that beaver trapping would not be permitted in New York state this season. Reduction of the beaver population to low levels, because of high pelt prices the last two seasons, was given as the reason for the decision against an open season.

Quick Is Winner Over Markle, 125-70

Loser Posts Highest Run in Billiard Match

CHIT Quick added Harry Markle to his list of victims in Wednesday night's city-wide billiard tournament match at Nick Kaye's Academy by the score of 125 to 70. Markle posted the highest run of 25. Quick hit for 15.

Tonight's action finds Julius Teller and Myrie Russell on the schedule. The match starts at 7:30 o'clock.

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE TIANO

OPEN THE DOOR FOR CLIFTON: The bowler most likely to succeed on the minor league alleys downstairs at the Central Recs didn't disappoint in the city tournament. Clifton Quick, who has replaced Freddie Rice as mineralastic kingpin, contributed a big 620 to the Class A winning doubles total of 616 with Harold Broskie and then romped off with Class A singles at 616.

Quick's amazing mastery of mineralastic is all the more surprising in view of his troubles on the shellac alleys, 1-8, upstairs. While some of his more highly touted contemporaries flounder around with big hooks, Clifton pinpoints the downstairs' drives with remarkable success. His City League average of 195 speaks for itself. Bowling or billiards, he has always been a tough hombre in the clutch.

ANENT TOURNAMENT HEROES: The city tournament produced another crop of heroes and surprises. . . . Phil Masters topped 1804 1, grab the all-events crown, but the big surprise was Chris Robinson, runnerup with 1798. . . . Chris also shot 592 for fourth place in Class A singles, and teamed with E. Robinson for 1080 Class B doubles. . . . Larry Weishaup posted a 1783 all-events, getting the bulk of his timber downstairs. . . . Jones Dairy was strangely missing from the team prize list but young Bobby Jones maintained a family tradition by placing in four departments. . . . He won Class B singles with 607, Class B 1 events with 1647, rolled high individual series of the entire tourney in Class B with 604 and capped the mayor's trophy with a 217 high single. . . . Clifton Quick's 268 gave him the Mayor William Edelmuth trophy for 1947 in B. . . . The Peter Korman trophy awarded to the bowler rolling the greatest number of pins over his tournament average in the all-events went to Chris Robinson with 241.

AND MORE HEROES: Saugerties Recreation pulled a stunner by grabbing Class A honors, yet the real heroes were Doblers of the Major League. They slipped out of a season-long doldrums to blast better than 3000 net score. . . . Emil Jordan had the pleasure of watching two of his chibs crash the team prize list. . . . The No-Can-Do League squad shot 2711 to take first place in Class B and the Booster trumblers finished fourth with 2521.

ELDSAM AND JETSAM:
Ken Williams and Frankie "Tarzan" Spada drew the rare "5-7-10" split on the same squad in the city tourney. . . . It's 1000 to 1 that we won't happen again in 25 years. . . . Last time we saw it, Bob Hanley drew it against Mike Shirghole's squad in New Rochelle, shooting against 3 lb. 12 oz. wood. . . . Nice bowling by Ben J. Rinaldi of Saugerties. . . . He and Charlie Riccardi posted 1126 third place Class A doubles. . . . Spectator interest was good in the minor events. . . . Too bad we can't say the same about the bowlers' interest. . . . Joe Nag's Barbers returned the compliment—shave, haircut, shoe-shine and TONIC—in the second half of the $25 match against Charlie Riccardi's keggers, blasting a neat 2844 to 2657 for the visitors. . . . Nice in individual bowling. . . . Harry Secreto 215-224-618; Joe Fay 190-201-215-604; Joe Whalen 222 and Eddie Bohm 214-224-184-621 for Nagys, who posted 1015 in the middle set. . . . Ben J. Rinaldi cracked 258-215-624 for Saugerties.

TABBY'S ARE TOUGH: The Tabby Tavern keggers of Garfield, N. J., might easily upset the pre-match dope against Jones No. 1 Saturday night on 7 and 8. The Skeeter State pinsters are veterans who play a much tighter pocket than did the New York Rangers with their sweeting hooks. . . . John Hogan, team captain, has a 204 average in three leagues. . . . Stan Pudja, anchor, has high series of 774 and the Garfields best series is 3257 in which they lost all three to Fiber C meat blocks. . . . Wally Patrick the No. 3 man led the national "700 Club" last year with seven 700 triples in one league. . . . Frank Luciano, the leadoff, shot an 800 series last year. . . . Marian Kaiser, star of the Garfield Ladies, Kaye Sportswear opponents, was a bit timer in New York ten years ago. . . . She still averages 185 or better in all her leagues.

WANNA FIGHT, MELLO?: Jimmy Grippio, the famed magician-manager of Mello Bettina was crying the blues a few weeks ago because he couldn't find any opposition for the Beacon southpaw. . . . Joe Lelly offers an immediate cure for Mr. Grippio's ailments. . . . Joe says Jimmy Rouse, former Albany amateur heavyweight, who was a local favorite before turning pro, is ready to fight Bettina. . . . Rouse has scored 14 knockouts in 17 professional starts and would like nothing better than a shot at beetle-browed Mello. . . . How about it, Barney Williams, down there in Newburgh? . . . Have you joined the "I Want to See Carmine Virgilio Licked Club"? . . . It's a popular movement. . . . Newburgh promoters are having a difficult time trying to dish up amateur and pro bouts on alternate Mondays. . . . One or the other is bound to fold.

PASS THE PICKLES

Pickles have been favorites for centuries. A fondness for pickles has always been a national characteristic of the American people. Pickles are zesty and juicy—the added touch that makes a meal a special treat. Pickles contain vitamins, and are very easy to digest. Use pickles in your menu as tasty tid-bits, appetizers, with sandwiches, and in the lunch box. Here are some unusual pickle recipes for Lenten Menus.

Stuffed Fillet of Trout
1/2 cup minced onions 1/2 cup finely chopped fill pickles
2 cups soft bread crumbs 1 1/2 a. fillet of trout
1/2 cup salt 1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs
1 egg, beaten 1/2 cup top milk
1/2 cup chopped capers
Slowly saute onions in butter until slightly yellow. Combine with bread crumbs, salt, pepper, capers, and pickles, tossing lightly with a fork until blended. Cut fillet in half, lengthwise. Roll, leaving hole in center for stuffing and fasten with toothpicks. Place in buttered baking dish, with centers with stuffing and top with buttered bread crumbs. Pour milk around trout. Bake, uncovered, in moderate oven (375° F.) 20 to 25 minutes, or until crumbs are browned. Yield: 6 portions.

Cheese and Pickle Sauce
3 lbs. butter 1 1/2 is. Worcestershire
2 lbs. flour 1/2 cup finely chopped fill pickles
1/4 cup top milk 1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs
1/4 cup Old English Cheese 1 large pintino, chopped
1/2 tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
Melt butter in saucepan. Add flour and stir until smooth. Add milk and cheese and cook until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper, Worcestershire, pickles, and pintino. Serve with asparagus, beans, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, spinach, or string beans. Yield: 1 1/2 cups.

Bills Proposed at Albany

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—The legislature staggered today under the impact of 604 new bills which piled up the total to 5,187 and threatened to set a record before adjournment, tentatively set for mid-March.

On the last day for introductions, legislators offered 306 Senate bills and 298 in the Assembly. The record 5,211 introduced in the 1946 session was expected to be topped by specially-submitted measures accepted before adjournment.

In the Senate bills may be introduced by the Rules Committee. In the Assembly measures will be accepted from the Rules Committee and by unanimous consent of the House, from the floor.

Of the 5,211 introduced last year, only 1,327 were passed and 1,002 signed into law by Governor Dewey.

The legislators continued slowly to dig their way out of the deluge yesterday, passing 84 bills after approving 151 Tuesday. Up until last Friday 315 had been passed.

Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican, said he would ask Rules Committee approval to introduce a bill to establish an advisory state science council.

His proposed 20-member council would develop a long range scientific research program for the state and encourage research under public and private auspices. Democratic Assemblyman William E. Clancy of Queens sponsored a bill to levy a $250 tax on "every mechanical musical instrument or device which furnishes music on deposit of money thereon."

The tax would be shared evenly by the State with cities and counties for distribution to towns and villages where the levy was collected.

Assemblyman Frank P. Davern of Kings county proposed a constitutional amendment that would permit lotteries and sale of lottery tickets by the state, cities or villages from which all revenue would be used for support of the government.

He also sponsored a bill to license and regulate laundries. The annual fee would be $10 and a renewal $5.

Measures to cut the voting age from 21 to 18 were introduced by Democratic Assemblyman Philip J. Schupier and Republican Robert J. Crews, both of Kings county.

Another bill would authorize the state-sponsored World Trade Corporation to operate a world trade center, appropriates $250,000. (Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens, R-Putnam.)

Lava Continues to Flow

Phiermo, Sicily, Feb. 27 (AP)—A molten flood of lava which has been boiling out of a new crater in Mount Etna since Tuesday rolled steadily onward today toward Pizzo Pisciaro, the first mountain hamlet in its path. Late dispatches to Rome last night said the lava had approached to within less than two miles of the community.

Mixup Helps Him

Los Angeles, Feb. 27 (AP)—Clarence Ingersoll, 38, went free today because of Georgia's gubernatorial mixup. Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose ordered Ingersoll's release, on a charge that he escaped a Georgia prison camp six years ago, by ruling that former Gov. Marshall Receives Landlord Dispute With Soviet Group

New York, Feb. 27 (AP)—A landlord-tenant dispute between the Morgan estate and the Soviet Purchasing Commission, involving the old J. P. Morgan estate at Glen Cove, N. Y., has been placed before Secretary of State George C. Marshall, counsel for the estate said today.

The attorneys, Jacob J. and Jay O. Kramer, claimed that the purchasing commission had not paid the quarterly rent due Feb. 1, was refusing to pay an estimated $25,000 damage to the property and was claiming diplomatic immunity.

The Kramers, who represent Morgan Island Estates, Inc., said they wrote to Secretary Marshall Tuesday on the ground the case raised the problem of how American citizens could enforce contracts with agents of foreign governments here.

The Morgan property, comprising 316 acres, was leased by the Soviet Purchasing Commission in 1945 at a $15,000 annual rental. Jacob J. Kramer said the Russians denied all liability on the ground that the purchasing commission's debate touched off a brief flurry on the Senate floor before the White House statement was issued.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.), told his colleagues he thought it was "most unfortunate" that the British foreign secretary in effect had accused the President of the United States of a "cheap political trick."

Senator Brewster (R-Me.), termed Evin's "amazing" statement "apparently the workings of a deeply distressed conscience."

Douglas, whose prompt confirmation by the Senate was assured, submitted his resignation yesterday as president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York and told reporters he will hurry to England after a State Department briefing of his new task.

The United States has been without an ambassador at London since last September, when President Truman recalled W. Averell Harriman to succeed Henry Wallace as secretary of commerce.

O. Max Gardner, former under-secretary of the treasury, was appointed to the post Jan. 12, but died on February 6 only a few hours before his
